NCR II marks Women's Month with series of empowering activities

Encouraging gender awareness and creativity through trivia-making contest

On 05 March, NCR PSO II launched a Trivia-Making Contest that engaged employees in crafting social media cards aligned with the 2025 National Women's Month theme. Four participants—Mr. Keno Adrian Luciano, Ms. Queenie Bel Fernando, Ms. Catherine Levi Dunasco, and Ms. Kristine Charisse Agno—showcased their creativity and knowledge of gender-related topics.

Ms. Dunasco was awarded first place, followed by Ms. Queenie Bel Fernando in second, Ms. Kristine Charisse Agno in third, and Mr. Keno Adrian Luciano in fourth. The contest not only fostered a deeper understanding of women's contributions to society but also highlighted the creative spirit of NCR PSO II personnel.

The winning entries were posted on the NCR PSO II Facebook Page, further promoting the celebration and employee engagement online.

NCR 2 raises awareness on online exploitation

The NCR PSO II hosted a Seminar on Anti-Online Sexual Abuse on 20 March to raise awareness and encourage preventive action. The seminar featured speakers from the District Women and Children Concern Section of PNP-Quezon City Police District (QCPD): PCMS Jona R. Madrazo, PCMS Joyce F. Peñaflor, and PCpl Rez Nunag.

PCMS Madrazo emphasized the dangers of online sexual abuse, its rising incidence, and the critical role of community vigilance. She urged participants to be observant of their neighborhoods and to support victims through counseling and reporting mechanisms. The seminar highlighted the importance of collective action in addressing and preventing online sexual abuse.

Self-Defense Training builds preparedness

On the same day as the Seminar on Anti-Online Sexual Abuse, the NCR PSO II organized a Basic Self-Defense Training activity. PSMS Mark Roger G. Versoza, from the Special Weapons and Tactics–District Mobile Force Battalion (SWAT-DMFB) of the PNP-QCPD led the practical session

PSMS Versoza provided valuable insights on personal safety, emphasizing risk assessment, situational awareness, and practical self-defense techniques.

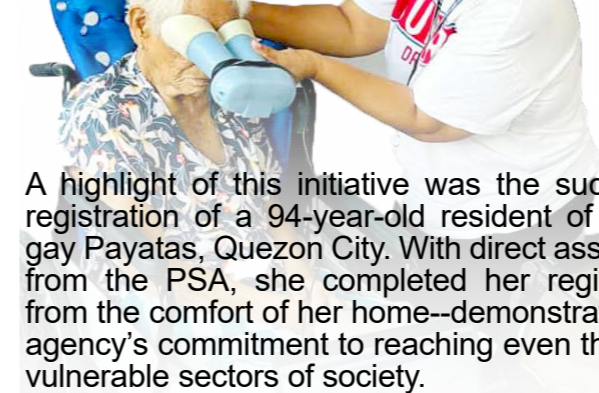

The training aimed to equip the employees with essential skills to confidently handle real-life situations. By integrating de-escalation strategies with simple yet effective self-defense techniques, the session enhanced participants' physical preparedness and their ability to assess and manage potential threats.

A total of 80 employees participated in the event.

Bringing National ID closer to every Juana

A highlight of this initiative was the successful registration of a 94-year-old resident of Barangay Payatas, Quezon City. With direct assistance from the PSA, she completed her registration from the comfort of her home—demonstrating the agency's commitment to reaching even the most vulnerable sectors of society.

This effort reflects PSA's dedication to making registration services accessible and inclusive for all Filipinos, regardless of their location or physical condition.

The Philippine Identification System (PhilSys) provides every citizen with a secure and official proof of identity, streamlining access to government and private sector services, financial institutions, and social protection programs. Through these efforts, the NCR PSO II empowers individuals, especially women, by granting them a formal identity that enhances their access to services and their participation in society.

In addition to National ID registration, PSA also offers services such as ePhilID printing, demographic information updates, digital ID assistance, and identity authentication.

PSA forum highlights gender gaps and SDG issues

The forum aimed to empower QCU students by highlighting the importance and purpose of statistics in national economic growth and improved living standards. Additionally, it raised awareness about the role of statistical information in shaping effective decisions, policies, and programs.

Ms. Jenny G. Amora, Senior Statistical Specialist from PSA NCR PSO II, led the session with an in-depth discussions in the areas of population, labor and employment, and vital statistics. She presented insights into gender gaps in economic participation and access to resources.

The forum drew active participation from both students and faculty, who engaged in open discussions and shared reflections on the data presented.

Ms. Amora closed the event by highlighting the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals, particularly SDG 3 (Good Health and Well-being), SDG 4 (Quality Education), SDG 8 (Decent Work and Economic Growth), and SDG 10 (Reduced Inequalities). She stressed the importance of statistical literacy in achieving global objectives and in promoting a more equitable society.
